APPOINTMENTS

WILFRED H. O. SCHMIDT, Professor of Educational Psychology at this University since 1966, has been named Chairman of the Department of Educational Psychology.

The appointment, announced by the Board of Governors, becomes effective July 1, 1972.

Dr. Schmidt was born in Natal, South Africa. He studied at Natal University College (now the University of Natal) and was awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree with distinction in both of his majors, German and Dutch, in 1933. In 1934 he received the Higher Education Diploma and was cited as the top education student of the year.

He then attended the Universities of Marburg and Leipzig, obtaining his PhD from the University of Leipzig.

Dr. Schmidt spent a year teaching at high schools in Transvaal Province and a year as a lecturer in the Department of Psychology at the University of Pretoria. From 1940 to 1966 he was on the staff of the Faculty of Education at the University of Natal, serving as Head of the Department of Educational Psychology from 1949 to 1966. During this time he was made a full professor and served several terms as dean of the faculty.

By introducing the first university training courses for remedial education in South Africa, Dr. Schmidt is said by his colleagues to have contributed much to the development of extensive remedial education services in the schools in Natal. He also initiated doctoral studies in the Department of Educational Psychology at the University of Natal.

Dr. Schmidt's teaching and research at The University of Alberta have focused on developmental psychology. He presently has a book in press with Harper and Row entitled The Educational Development of the Child, in which he says he has attempted to provide a new and educationally more relevant conceptual framework for the study of child development.

He is a member of the Education Faculty Executive Committee and the University Library Committee. He also is co-founder and President-elect of the Canadian Association for the Advancement of Research in Child Development.

JOHN S. CHARNOCK, Professor of Pharmacology since 1971, has been named Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology.

The appointment, announced by the Board of Governors, became effective January 1, 1972 upon the resignation of E. E. DANIEL, who had been Chairman since the department was established almost 11 years ago.

Dr. Charnock was born in Adelaide, South Australia in 1930. He attended the University of Adelaide, receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in Biochemistry and Organic Chemistry in 1956 and his PhD in 1960.

He first came to Canada in 1961 as a Research Fellow at McGill University, Montreal. He spent the following year in the Physiology Department at Vanderbilt Medical School in Nashville, Tennessee. During this time he held the C. J. Martin Fellowship from the National Health and Medical Research Council of Australia, who invited him to return to Adelaide in 1964 as the first Director of the newly-formed Research Unit in Cell Physiology at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital.

Dr. Charnock held that position until 1968, when he returned to Canada to accept an appointment as Associate Professor of Pharmacology at this University.

Within the department, he is active on the curriculum committee for Pharmacology for Medical Students, and the Executive Committee. In the Faculty of Medicine, Dr. Charnock is a member of the Executive Committee, the Co-ordinating Committee for Phase I of the new medical curriculum, and several ad hoc committees.

'THIRD WORLD' SERIES TAPED AT UNIVERSITY

To many people, local television talent may mean Tommy Banks. But, and this may come as a surprise, there is time available on one of the local stations to virtually anyone who wants to use it.

According to HENRY MAMET, Director of Radio and Television at the University, "There is a minimum of three hours per week available to the University community on CBXFT (Channel 11). Very little use had been made of this time, and we would welcome program ideas. We produce them in our own studios in the Biological Sciences Centre."

Among the programs produced in the University studios is a 13-week series entitled "Third World." The programs feature analyses of the problems of developing countries and will be broadcast each Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. on Channel 11, beginning February 23.

Six of the programs were recorded with FRED BENTLEY, Professor of Soil Science, and his wife HELEN, formerly Associate Professor of Household Economics here. DAVID GUE, Foreign Student Adviser, appears in all of the shows.

Dr. and Mrs. Bentley have visited a number of third world countries as consultants for the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA), and Mr. Gue has done extensive work for Canadian University Services Overseas (CUSO). Also appearing in the series are Canadians who have travelled in the countries concerned, University of Alberta students from those countries, and Canadian students who have served with CUSO.

"The first two programs will serve as an introduction to the series," says Mr. Gue. "One of them deals with the way in which people move back and forth between Canada and the third world countries, and it provides a look at other things besides missionaries and tourists.

"The second one shows the way in which overseas students come to Canada, and it presents a general review of Canada's aid program."

Next come six programs by the Bentleys, covering Tibetan refugees, Kashmir, East Africa, India, and Malaysia. Mrs. Bentley has made detailed studies of textiles, weaving, and design in the third world countries, and Dr. Bentley has done extensive consulting work on the agricultural problems of the countries. The programs will include slides taken during their travels, discussion of textiles, and commentary on the agricultural problems of the individual countries.

The final segment of the series will deal with countries not yet discussed up to that point. Guests appearing with Mr. Gue will be Canadians who have lived or worked in those countries, and foreign students. The emphasis
